Excisions: Excisions Recommended But Not Made

Reasons for excisions:

Six excisions are required to the publication. In the first instance two category excisions are required to remove material which results in the publication as a whole tending to promote and support the exploitation of young persons for sexual purposes. Four further excisions are required to remove material involving sexual and physical conduct of a degrading, dehumanising and demeaning nature that degrade, dehumanise and demean the women involved, and by extension all women to a high degree.

Summary of reasons for classification:

The DVD entitled Hustler's Young Sluts, Inc. 17 is classified as:
Objectionable.

The publication is a DVD comprising a feature, a slideshow and a number of trailers for other adult titles. The feature contains two scenes in which young women are presented as being young teenagers. These scenes emphasise the young women's immaturity, and combined with the women's youthful appearance, the title of the publication and its focus on presenting teenagers for the sexual arousal of the viewer, crosses a threshold that credibly tends to promote and support the exploitation of young persons for sexual purposes. In addition, two trailers contain a high extent of sexual and physical conduct that degrades, dehumanises and demeans the woman concerned, and by implication women in general.

The Classification Office required six excisions be made to the publication. If the excisions were made the classification would be "Objectionable except if the availability of the publication is restricted to persons who have attained the age of 18 years." The distributor declined to make the excisions therefore the publication's classification is "Objectionable."

The Classification Office has considered the effects of the Bill of Rights Act 1990 on the application of the classification criteria. The classification interferes with the freedom of expression, but this is an outcome that is a reasonable limitation and consistent with Parliament's intention that publications that tend to promote or support the exploitation of young persons for sexual purposes are deemed to be objectionable. It also reflects the concern of a free and democratic society to prevent the availability of publications that depict degrading, dehumanising and demeaning sexual conduct to an extent and degree that they are likely to be injurious to the public good.
